Did you know?

Scholar courses are written by experienced teachers and align fully with SQA specifications. That means that every topic is designed with learners in mind, to be clear, accurate, and directly relevant to what's assessed.

If the SQA update their course specifications, we update our courses too. You can be confident that learners always get the most relevant and up-to-date content.

With Scholar, learners receive instant feedback and can track their progress through real-time, personalised reports. It's a powerful way to build confidence, encourage reflection, and support independent learning.
